

Spotted Redshank *Tringa erythropus

The Spotted Redshank is a shorebird of the Old World, seldom seen in North America. Of the five records for California, one is from San Diego County.

Migration: San Diego County's Spotted Redshank was photographed in percolation basins just west of O'Neill Lake, Camp Pendleton (E6), 19–23 May 1989 (E. Dore, AB 43:396, 538, Pyle and McCaskie 1992).

Photo by Anthony Mercieca